

FACTS & FIGURES – Men's Downhill in Bormio

- Marco Odermatt (SUI/ Stöckli) is the defending Downhill champion.
- Odermatt leads the Men's Downhill standings after finishing second in the opening Downhill race of the Audi FIS World Cup season in Beaver Creek, and winning the second race, in Val Gardena/ Groeden.
- Odermatt was second in the Downhill at Bormio last season. He won the Super G here the following day.
- Odermatt has not won a Downhill at Bormio. He Won Super G and the GS here in 2022-23, and was second in the Downhill here in 2021-22.

- Dominik Paris (ITA/ Nordica) has the best record in the field at Bormio. He has won seven Audi FIS World Cup races here.
- Paris won his first ever senior circuit race in Bormio, the Downhill in December 2012.
- He won Downhill races here in December 2017 and December 2018, both Downhills in December 2019, and the Downhill here in December 2021.
- He has also won the Super G in Bormio once, in December 2018.
- Dominik has achieved 18 downhill victories. With one more win, he would tie Peter Müller (SUI) for second place in the all-time downhill rankings. Franz Klammer (AUT) holds the record with 25 downhill victories.
- Paris finished third in the Downhill rankings last season.
- Paris was 19th in the opening Downhill race of the Audi FIS World Cup season in Beaver Creek, and 25th in the second race at Val Gardena/ Groeden.

- Cyprien Sarrazin (FRA/ Rossignol) won the Downhill at Bormio last season.
- He finished second in the Downhill standings last season, winning three Downhill races.
- The Frenchman finished ninth in the opening Downhill race of the Audi FIS World Cup season in Beaver Creek, and 17th in the second Downhill of the season at Val Gardena/ Groeden.

- Vincent Kriechmayr (AUT/ Head) finished fourth overall in the Downhill rankings last season.
- Kriechmayr won the Downhill at Bormio in December 2022. He was second in the Super G here the following day.
- He finished fifth in the opening Downhill race of the Audi FIS World Cup season in Beaver Creek, and 55th at Val Gardena/ Groeden. He is currently 12th in the Downhill standings.

- Justin Murisier (SUI/ Head) is second in the Downhill standings. He won the opening Downhill race of the Audi FIS World Cup season in Beaver Creek and was 29th at the second race of the season in Val Gardena/ Groeden.

- Franjo Von Allmen (SUI/ Head) is currently third in the Downhill standings after finishing second at Val Gardena/ Groeden.

- Ryan Cochran Siegle (USA/ Head) is fourth in the standings after he finished third at Val Gardena/ Groeden.

- Bryce Bennett (USA/ Fischer) Bennett finished fifth in the Downhill rankings last season.
- Bennett was sixth in the opening Downhill race of the Audi FIS World Cup season in Beaver Creek and eighth in the second race at Val Gardena/ Groeden.

- Miha Hrobat (SLO/ Atomic) was third in the opening Downhill race of the Audi FIS World Cup season in Beaver Creek. It was his first World Cup podium. He is sixth in the Downhill standings.
- Cameron Alexander (CAN/ Rossignol) was third in the Downhill in Bormio last season.