

FACTS & FIGURES – Viessmann Nordic Combined World Cup – Ruka

MEN

- World Cup champion Jarl Magnus Riiber (NOR) finished second in the season-opening event in Ruka (FIN) a year ago, before going on to win the next four – two in Ruka and two more in Lillehammer (NOR).
- Stefan Rettenecker (AUT), runner-up to Riiber last season, earned his first World Cup podium in Ruka last November, the first of 11 in individual events, but is still chasing his first World Cup victory.
- Jens Luras Oftebro (NOR) reached his first World Cup podium with third place in Ruka in 2019, earned his first World Cup win there in 2020 and his fifth last year, in the season-opening Compact event.
- Ruka will host the first three of 19 men's World Cup competitions this season, in eight different venues.
