

Statistics - WOMEN'S MASS START NORMAL HILL/5KM WORLD CHAMPIONSHIPS TRONDHEIM

- This event is a new addition to the programme of the FIS Nordic World Ski Championships.
- The Mass Start NH/5km is the second Individual event for the Nordic Combined women at the World Championships, next to the Individual Gundersen NH/5km.
- In 2022, the women's Mass Start celebrated its World Cup premiere in Val di Fiemme.
- Gyda Westvold Hansen won the first Mass Start ahead of Anju Nakamura and Lisa Hirner.
- Haruka Kasai is the winner of the women's "Mass Start Trophy" this season, with two second places (Ramsau, Otepää) and a sixth place (Seefeld).
- Ida Marie Hagen won the first two Mass Start events this season in Ramsau and Seefeld, but only placed 15th in the last event in Otepää due to a fall after landing in the Ski Jumping part.
- Yuna Kasai celebrated her first Individual World Cup victory at the Mass Start in Otepää, taking first place ahead of her sister Haruka and Jenny Nowak.
- Nowak had her best World Cup result this season in the Mass Start event in Otepää.
- Nathalie Armbruster reached the podium once with a third place in Seefeld. She is fourth in the "Mass Start Trophy" ranking.
- Gyda Westvold Hansen only competed in one Mass Start this season, placing second in Seefeld.