

Audi FIS Alpine Ski World Cup 2025/26 – Women's Slalom Spindleruv Mlyn stat sheet

Previous Slalom race (Flachau) stats

- Mikaela Shiffrin's (USA/Atomic) Slalom win in Flachau saw her become the first women's or men's skier to reach 70 World Cup wins in a single discipline. Shiffrin's Slalom victory count alone (70) is enough to earn her fourth place on the all-time women's and men's win list for all disciplines combined. Shiffrin's win was her 11th podium in 12 Slalom races in Flachau, and her sixth win there. This is twice as many as the next best, Petra Vlhova (SVK), who has three wins in Flachau.
- Mikaela Shiffrin (USA/Atomic) has won six Slalom races this season. Shiffrin has won at least six Slalom races in a season on six occasions (2016/17, 2017/18, 2018/19, 2022/23, 2023/24, 2025/26). Only two women and one men's skier have won at least six Slalom races in a season more than once - Vreni Schneider (SUI) did it twice (1988/89 and 1993/94), while Marlies Schild (AUT) did it three times (2006/07, 2010/11, 2011/12), as did Alberto Tomba (ITA) (1987/88, 1991/92, 1994/95).
- Paula Moltzan's (USA/Rossignol) 2nd in Flachau was her first Slalom podium in nine Slalom races dating back to her 3rd in Sestriere last season. Moltzan's podium means she is now ranked 10th outright for USA women's Slalom podiums (4), one behind Lindsey Vonn (USA/Head). Moltzan has eight individual podiums (4 SL, 3 GS, 1 PAR) in 142 World Cup starts, but is still looking for her first victory.
- Katharina Truppe's (AUT/Voelkl) 3rd in Flachau was her first Slalom podium in eight Slalom races dating back to her first World Cup victory in Are last season. Truppe now has six Slalom podiums, which is equal-16th best for Austrian women alongside Claudia Strobl (AUT) and Ingrid Salvenmoser (AUT).

Spindleruv Mlyn stats

- Spindleruv Mlyn has hosted six women's Slalom races - 2005/06, 2007/08, 2010/11, 2018/19 and two in the 2022/23 season.
- The first women's Slalom race in 2005/06 in Spindleruv Mlyn was won by Anja Paerson (SWE), who went on to win Slalom gold at the 2006 Olympic Winter Games two months later. Marlies Schild (AUT) won the next two Slalom races there in 2007/08 (as reigning Olympic SL bronze medallist) and 2010/11 (as reigning Olympic Slalom silver medallist). Schild's 0.93s win ahead of Kathrin Zettel (AUT) in 2010/11 remains the biggest women's Slalom winning margin to date in Spindleruv Mlyn.
- Mikaela Shiffrin (USA/Atomic) won the next two Slalom races in Spindleruv Mlyn, in 2018/19 and the first race in 2022/23, while Lena Duerr (GER/Head) won the second race in 2022/23 by 0.06s ahead of Shiffrin to record the smallest winning margin for women's Slalom in Spindleruv Mlyn. Duerr is also the oldest women's Slalom winner in Spindleruv Mlyn at age 31 years and 178 days, while Shiffrin's win at age 23 years and 361 days in 2018/19 makes her the youngest.
- Mikaela Shiffrin (USA/Atomic) and Marlies Schild (AUT) are the only skiers to have won the women's Slalom in Spindleruv Mlyn more than once, with two wins each. Both Shiffrin and Schild share the lead for Slalom podiums there too with three each, followed by two apiece for Wendy Holdener (SUI/Head) and Lena Duerr (GER/Head).

- A win for Mikaela Shiffrin (USA/Atomic) would see her become the first woman to record three Slalom wins in Spindleruv Mlyn, while victory for Lena Duerr (GER/Head) would see her equal Shiffrin and Marlies Schild (AUT) on two wins each in Spindleruv Mlyn.
- If Mikaela Shiffrin (USA/Atomic) finishes seventh or higher in Spindleruv Mlyn, she will earn enough points to secure the Slalom globe this season. Coming into this weekend, Shiffrin has 680 Slalom points - a 268-point lead ahead of Camille Rast (SUI/Head) on 412. Rast can reach a maximum of 712 points if she wins all three remaining SL races this season, meaning Shiffrin needs just 33 points (seventh or better) to reach 713 and guarantee the SL globe in Spindleruv Mlyn.
- If Mikaela Shiffrin (USA/Atomic) wins in Spindleruv Mlyn, it will be her seventh Slalom win this season, which she has previously achieved on three occasions – 2017/18, 2018/19 and 2023/24. The only other women's or men's skier to have won at least seven Slalom races in a season more than once is Vreni Schneider (SUI), who did it twice (1988/89 and 1993/94). Shiffrin shares the record for most Slalom wins in a season (eight in 2018/19) with Janica Kostelic (CRO) (eight in 2000/01).
- Of the 34 women to have won four or more Slalom races in their careers, only two are active skiers - Mikaela Shiffrin (USA/Atomic) (70) and Petra Vlhova (SVK/Rossignol) (22).
- If Paula Moltzan (USA/Rossignol) makes the podium, she will equal Lindsey Vonn (USA/Head) on five Slalom podiums, which is equal-ninth among USA women.
- If Lena Duerr (GER/Head) wins, she will surpass her own record of oldest women's Slalom winner in Spindleruv Mlyn (31 years and 178 days in 2022/23). Other skiers who could surpass her record this weekend include: Paula Moltzan (USA/Rossignol), Wendy Holdener (SUI/Head), Anna Swenn Larsson (SUI/Head) and Sara Hector (SWE/Head), among others. A podium for Duerr would also see her move to 18 SL podiums, which would be outright 21st for all-time among women.
- If Anna Swenn Larsson (SWE/Head) makes the podium she will become the 29th woman to make 15 Slalom podiums.
- If Wendy Holdener (SUI/Head) wins, she will become the oldest skier representing Switzerland to win a women's World Cup Slalom race at age 32 (Vreni Schneider holds the current record of age 30). If Holdener makes the podium, she will become the sixth woman (and third from Switzerland) to reach 40 Slalom podiums. A podium will also see Holdener break into the top 10 for women's and men's Slalom podiums at equal-10th alongside Mario Matt (AUT).
- Camille Rast (SUI/Head) has three Slalom wins while Wendy Holdener (SUI/Head) has two. A win for Holdener will see her match Rast, which is currently fifth-best among Swiss women. A win for Rast would see her join Corinne Schmidhauser (SUI) on four, which is equal-fourth among Swiss women behind Vreni Schneider (34), Erika Hess (21) and Lise-Marie Morerod (10).
- Austria has 89 women's Slalom wins. A win for an Austrian skier would see Austria become the second nation after the USA to reach 90 women's Slalom wins.
- Switzerland is equal-fourth with Sweden on 108 women's and men's Slalom wins, behind Austria (222), France (135) and USA (128). The next Swiss or Swedish win will see that nation move into fourth outright.
- Switzerland has 298 women's and men's Slalom podiums. This weekend's women's (Spindleruv Mlyn) and men's (Kitzbuehel) SL races occur on the same day, with women's scheduled to finish first.

Switzerland needs two podiums to become the fourth nation to reach 300 after Austria (701), France (370) and Sweden (321).

- Germany is on 29 women's and men's Slalom wins coming into this weekend. A win for Emma Aicher (GER/Head) or Lena Duerr (GER/Head) will see Germany become the 10th nation to achieve 30 SL wins. If Aicher wins, she will become the third German woman (along with Hilde Gerg and Maria Hoefl-Riesch) to have won World Cup races in Downhill, Super G and SL.
- Katharina Truppe (AUT/Voelkl) will make her 100th Slalom start this weekend, while Anna Swenn Larsson (SWE/Head) will make her 130th, Jessica Hiltzinger (GER/Head) will make her 70th and Estelle Alphand (SWE/Head) will make her 60th.
- For World Cup starts across all disciplines: Ana Bucik Jogan (SLO/Salomon) will make her 210th, Camille Rast (SUI/Head) will make her 120th, and Laurence St-Germain (CAN/Rossignol) her 90th.
