What the Constructors Championship means to your team and how it works for you

At Fischer, the focus is clearly on close cooperation with the athletes and their individual setups to meet their special requirements and preferences. Fischer wants to provide the individuals with the best possible skis & boots for the best possible result and works day and night to achieve this. The success of Fischer's athletes is the more important goal for the company.

Team details, athletes, technicians, team principle, and general info on factory, equipment, etc.

In 2024 Fischer Sports celebrates its 100th anniversary. Founded 1924 by the Fischer family the company remained exclusively in the hands of the family. The Fischer racing division has a long and rich history that has also produced some of the biggest names in skiing, like Franz Klammer, Hans Knauss or Ivica Kostelić. The selection of the athletes is extremely versatile, but it is always important for the team to work closely together as equals. At Fischer, the athletes are treated like colleagues and family members and everything in the racing department is subordinated to their success. The athletes are looked after from the headquarters in Ried and are regularly at the Race Base to discuss developments, fine-tuning and adjustments in person with the race product experts.

Highlights athlete biography and brand association:

AJ Ginnis – special connection to Fischer as his dad was an employee and had a Fischer ski shop, never skied a different brand than Fischer

Bryce Bennett – two time winner at Saslong (Val Gardena) together with Leo Mussi, the legendary service man and Saslong expert (Nyman, Ghedina) who won Saslong already six times as responsible service man

Daniel Yule – is on Fischer his whole career! With the age of four he was on Fischer skis the first time and never skied a different brand

Raphael & Ricarda Haaser – both won their World Championship bronze medal in the same competition (alpine combined) at the competitions in Coruchevel/Meribel

Pre-season planning, new skis development, what length for what discipline

The Fischer team prepared very successfully, working intensively and meticulously on the equipment to help athletes take the next step together and make progress with a best possible setup.

Ski Technical details, who are the servicemen and how their job works

The focus is clearly on a setup that is perfectly tailored to the athlete, consisting of skis, boots and bindings. In the speed area, we also work on the speed of the skis to give athletes the best possible conditions.
