

Statistics - MEN'S COMPACT NORMAL HILL/7.5KM WORLD CHAMPIONSHIPS TRONDHEIM

- This event is a new addition to the programme of the FIS Nordic World Ski Championships.
- The Individual Compact NH/7.5km replaces the Individual Gundersen NH/10km event, which had been part of the World Championships since its inception in 1924.
- In 2023, the men's Individual Compact celebrated its World Cup premiere in Ruka.
- Jens Luraas Oftebro won the first Individual Compact ahead of Jarl Magnus Riiber and Joergen Graabak.
- Vinzenz Geiger is the current leader of this seasons "Compact Trophy" after 5 of 6 events. Geiger is leading with two victories (LH Lillehammer, NH Otepää), one second (LH Ruka) and two third places (NH Schonach, NH Seefeld).
- Jarl Magnus Riiber, currently second in the "Compact Trophy" won one LH Compact event in Ruka this season, followed by a third and three second places.
- Riiber and Geiger are the only to athletes to have reached the podium in every Compact event this season.
- Johannes Lamparter won the NH Compact competition in Schonach and is currently third in the "Compact Trophy" ranking.
- With one second place (LH Lillehammer) and two third places (LH Ruka, NH Otepää) Julian Schmid is another medal contender for the premiere in Trondheim.