

PREVIEW WOMEN'S SUPER-G WORLD CHAMPIONSHIPS – Wednesday 8 Feb 2023

Lara Gut-Behrami

- Lara Gut-Behrami is the reigning Olympic and world champion in the super-G. She can become the first woman to win three successive global titles in this event.
- The only woman to claim the world title in the super-G as reigning Olympic champion in this event is Anna Veith in 2015.
- Gut-Behrami can join Ulrike Maier (2), Isolde Kostner (2) and Anja Pärson (2) on a record two super-G world titles among women.
- Gut-Behrami (G1-S1-B1) has won a joint-record three medals in the super-G at the world championships, picking up silver in 2013, bronze in 2017 and gold in 2021.
- Gut-Behrami has won eight world championships medals (G2-S3-B3), a record among Swiss women. The only Swiss skier to collect more medals at the world championships is Pirmin Zurbriggen (9).
- Only Vonn (G2-S3-B3) won as many world championship medals in women's speed events as Gut-Behrami (G1-S2-B3).

Mikaela Shiffrin

- Mikaela Shiffrin won the super-G title at the 2019 world championships. Lindsey Vonn (2009) is the only other American woman to have won the super-G world title.
- Vonn claimed her super-G world title on French snow in Val d'Isère. That is the only other time the women's super-G event at the world championships was staged on French soil.
- Shiffrin can become the fourth woman to win multiple world titles in this event, after Ulrike Maier (1989, 1991), Isolde Kostner (1996, 1997) and Anja Pärson (2005, 2007).

Other contenders

- Corinne Suter has won two medals in the super-G at the world championships: a bronze medal in 2019 and a silver medal in 2021. She can become the third woman on a complete medal set at the world championships in the super-G, after Lara Gut-Behrami (G1-S1-B1) and Lindsey Vonn (G1-S1-B1).
- Suter can become the third Swiss woman to claim the super-G world title. Only Austria (6) have more than two different winners of the women's super-G event.
- Ragnhild Mowinckel leads the 2022/23 World Cup super-G standings coming into the world championships. The only Norwegian woman to have claimed a medal in the super-G event at the world championships is Astrid Lödemel who won bronze in 1993.

- Mowinckel's best results in the super-G at the world championships are sixth place-finishes in 2017 and 2019.
- The only Italian woman to have won the super-G world title is Isolde Kostner (1996 and 1997).
- Federica Brignone won the super-G crystal globe last season. Her results at the world championships in the super-G: 8th-10th-10th.
- Brignone (32 years) can become the oldest medal winner in the women's super-G at the world championships. That record is now held by Tina Maze, who won a silver medal aged 31 in 2015.
- Austrian women have won a record 14 medals in the women's super-G at the world championships including a record seven world titles, but failed to reach the podium at the last two world championships.
- Mirjam Puchner won silver in the super-G at the Winter Olympic Games in 2022, but has yet to participate in this event at the world championships. Her only world championships result is an 11th place in the downhill in 2021.
