

FOUR HILLS TOURNAMENT – INNSBRUCK – 3 Jan 2021

Dawid Kubacki

- Dawid Kubacki won the Four Hills Tournament last season, after being only victorious on the last hill in Bischofshofen.
- Kubacki's win Garmisch-Partenkirchen on 1 January was his second victory on a hill in the Four Hills Tournament.
- Among Polish ski jumpers, Kubacki (2) could surpass Malysz (2) on second-most wins in the Four Hills event, after Stoch (5).
- In each of the last five seasons, the winner of Garmisch-Partenkirchen also won in Innsbruck in the Four Hills Tournament.
- Marius Lindvik won on both hills in 2020, Ryoyu Kobayashi in 2019, Kamil Stoch in 2018, Daniel-André Tande in 2017 and Peter Prevc in 2016. Stoch is the only Polish ski jumper to have ever achieved it.
- Kubacki can become the third Polish ski jumper to win in Innsbruck in the Four Hills Tournament, after Adam Malysz (2001) and Stoch (2018).

Halvor Egner Granerud

- Halvor Egner Granerud is leader in the overall standings of this season's Four Hills tournament, after he finished second in Garmisch-Partenkirchen on 1 January and recorded his first podium in a Four Hills event.
- The last Norwegian winner of the Four Hills tournament was Anders Jacobsen in 2007. Jacobsen was third in the classification after Garmisch-Partenkirchen. He then won in Innsbruck and took the lead in the standings.
- Overall World Cup leader Granerud has won five individual World Cup events this season, at least three more than any other male ski jumper.
- Granerud can become the 23rd Norwegian to win a Four Hills event. Only Austria (23) have had as many different winners.
- Norway has won 49 Four Hills events, second-most after Austria (63).
- Norwegian ski jumpers have won 13 times in Innsbruck. Only Finland has won here more often: 14.
- Norway has won 14 times in Garmisch-Partenkirchen (12 Bischofshofen, 10 Oberstdorf).

Kamil Stoch

- Kamil Stoch has won five Four Hills events: Bischofshofen in 2016/17 and all four events in 2017/18. Among active jumpers, only Gregor Schlierenzauer (9) has won more events in the competition.
- Stoch (5) needs one more win to equal Helmuth Recknagel (6) and Sven Hannawald (6) in sixth-place all-time on most Four Hills event wins. Matti Nykänen (7) is in fifth place.
- Only Adam Malysz (12) has recorded more podium finishes among Polish ski jumpers in Four Hills events than Stoch (10).

- Stoch has won 36 individual World Cup events, the joint-fourth most all-time alongside Janne Ahonen (36). Only Schlierenzauer (53), Nykänen (46) and Malysz (39) have won more.
- Stoch can become the 11th ski jumper with multiple wins in Innsbruck and the first since Gregor Schlierenzauer recorded his second win in 2013.

Other contenders

- Marius Lindvik won the event in Innsbruck last season. He will miss the event this year.
- Piotr Zyla will be 33 years and 353 days old on 3 January. Only one man was older when he won a Four Hills event: Sepp Bradl was 35y-363d in Bischofshofen in 1954 and 34y-364d in Innsbruck in 1953.
- Kamil Stoch (33y-223d in Innsbruck) can also become the second-oldest winner of a Four Hills event.
- Anže Lanišek can become the third ski jumper representing Slovenia to win in Innsbruck in the Four Hills Tournament after Peter Prevc (2016) and Peter Zonta (2004).
- Peter Prevc is also the last Slovenian to win or claim a podium in a Four Hills event, when he won in Bischofshofen in 2016.
- Karl Geiger won the first Four Hills Tournament event in Oberstdorf to claim his first ever win in the competition.
- The last German to win two of the Four Hills events was Sven Hannawald in 2001/02. He went on to win all Four Hills that season to become the first ever ski jumper to achieve that feat.
- Richard Freitag was the last German to win in Innsbruck when he won in 2015.
- Daniel Huber can become the first Austrian to win the Four Hills event in Innsbruck since Gregor Schlierenzauer in 2013.
- The last Austrian to win one of the Four Hill events was Stefan Kraft, when he won in Oberstdorf on 30 December 2016.
- Austrian ski jumpers have won 13 times in Innsbruck. Only Finnish ski jumpers (14) have won more often in Innsbruck.
- Austria can become the first country to have 11 different winners in Innsbruck in the Four Hills Tournament.
- Japan has won six times in Innsbruck, more than at any other hill in the Four Hills tournament.
- Japan has claimed 13 podium finishes in Innsbruck (G6-S0-B7). It also finished in the top-three 13 times in Garmisch-Partenkirchen (G5-S2-B6).
